

Century-Old Bridge
The oldest suspension bridge in the United States will be 100 years old this year. Spanning the Ohio River at Wheeling, West Virginia, the 10.0-foot suspension bridge was opened to traffic in 1849.

Rest Home Open House Scheduled

Mrs. E. C. Ingham, proprietor of Ingham Rest Home, 1937 Carson street, announces an open house Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock to mark the addition of a 10-bed ward. Mrs. Ingham invites her friends, friends of the patients, and other interested persons to attend.

In operation approximately three years, the home has many innovations, including ambulance service at the Gramercy avenue entrance, 24-hour nursing service, and a dietician especially trained in preparation of invalid's food.

A 30-cubic foot deep freeze unit recently installed is a material help in food preparation and menu planning, Mrs. Ingham reports.

Resident patients are from Lomita, Hollywood, Monrovia, and to the surprise of the proprietor, one recently arrived from Minnesota to spend the winter. Three of the patients have been cared for for the past 18 months.

NOISY . . . Situation such as that experienced in Alameda Schools where five classes are being conducted in the partitioned auditorium face the school children of Torrance unless more schools are started soon, say school officials.

School Bond

School Auditorium to house two kindergarten classes will start tomorrow morning," Hull said.

Remaining bonding capacity in the elementary district is $875,000. Under way at the present time is a survey which will reveal information on the school system with respect to adequacy, capacity and utilization, size and growth, present and future building and site needs, and a plan for financing the building program. It is anticipated that the survey will indicate need for more facilities than can be provided from the remaining bonding capacity figure. State aid for "impoverished" school districts is available but only after the district is bonded to capacity.

The bond issue which may be called for next April would provide the number of "war babies" now reaching school age was taxing the lower grade facilities to the limit. High school housing would be ample for at least another year, he estimated. The jump in school enrollment from 3500 at present to an estimated 4500 by next year would call for the construction of at least two more elementary schools, he said.

Saturday Set For Men's Club Auction

An "odds and ends" variety auction will be held Saturday afternoon by the Methodist Church Men's Club in the church patio at El Prado and Manuel avenue.

According to Marvin Hiebert, group president, proceeds of the auction will go to the church-sponsored Boy Scout troop and the church improvement program.

or plaintiff's advertisers, or members of the said (Clerks) Union or any other person:

"(1) To refuse to perform or render any services for the plaintiff (Bulletin) or plaintiff's advertisers, or
 "(2) To take or threaten any disciplinary action against any employee of plaintiff or plaintiff's advertisers or member of said Union, if said employee or person offers to perform any work or services for plaintiff or plaintiff's advertisers, in order to induce or compel said employee, member or person to refuse to perform any work or render any service for the plaintiff or plaintiff's advertisers.
 "C. Taking any action whatsoever as a representative of, or in concert with Defendant (Clerks) Union, to notify plaintiff's past, present or prospective advertisers or subscribers that plaintiff is unfair to said Union or unfair to San Pedro Typographical Union No. 862.
 "D. While acting as a representative of, or in concert with Defendant Union, to threaten, to picket or boycott, or to intimidate in any manner whatsoever plaintiff's past, present or prospective advertisers or subscribers.
 "E. Engaging in any combination, agreement or concerted activity to cause plaintiff's past, present or prospective advertisers or subscribers to refrain from doing business with the plaintiff (Bulletin).
 "F. Taking any action whatsoever, as a representative of, or in concert with Defendant (Clerks) Union, to cause plaintiff or plaintiff's advertisers to be placed upon any 'unfair' or 'do not patronize' lists.
 In a statement Judge Hanson announced the principle that "loyalty" to the employer who pays a person's wage transcends the loyalty of one wage earner to another in a different field.

A restraining order previously had been issued by Judge Arnold Praeger in behalf of the newspaper.

Judge Hanson wrote in his opinion: "The activities of the union are not only a boycott by the clerks of the Bulletin, with which it has no labor controversy, but an indirect, if not direct, demand on its own employees to give heed thereto, lest there be reprisals by the clerks and their sympathizers."

"This type of boycotting is not secondary but so-called tertiary or even more remote boycotting. This court knows of no decision in California that sustains it.

"While it is entirely understandable that the members of a labor union should desire that all labor activities be unionized, that wact does not give rise to acts that spell disloyalty to an employer. The law is otherwise, always has been, and undoubtedly will continue to be so.

"But what is more to the point is that not only are the activities of the defendant union not within the scope of proper labor objectives but directly violate, unjustifiably and without cause, the contractual relations existing between plaintiff and its advertisers.

Expansion Plan For Local Hospital Told

Plans to develop the Los Angeles County General Hospital into a Class A Hospital, second only to the main institution in Los Angeles, were revealed Monday night by J. E. Smits, director of the local hospital.

Smits told a meeting of the Torrance Kiwanis Club the hospital would be expanded to make use of nearly 25 acres of land facing on Vermont avenue.

Pointing to the need for additional facilities for the Harbor Area, Smits said that last year the local institution handled 6881 patients. Each day 75-100 new patients were treated at the branch of the County General Hospital in Los Angeles.

"If the facilities were available we could admit another 300-400 patients tomorrow who have been waiting for minor operations and less serious medical treatment," Smits told the local club.

At the end of the war when the county took over the hospital from the Army, approximately 400 beds were being occupied. Today the hospital is carrying 700 bed patients.

"The hospital's employees, of which there are more than patients, draw on a monthly salary of $160,000, Smits said. The Harbor institution is the emergency receiving station for the entire area, maintaining a 24-hour watch.

Smits was introduced to Kiwanis members by Dr. Gerald M. Eastham, program chairman for the evening.

Dr. Howard A. Wood presided.

Reflections

By J. Hugh Sherkey, Jr.

WRITE A LETTER

Soldier! Remember the buddy who shared that fox hole with you? You promised to write to him, have you? Tell him about yourself, what you have done and what you expect to do?

Vacationist! Remember those nice people you met? You were going to keep in touch with them, have you? They will welcome a letter from you.

Neighbor! The people who lived beside you for many years moved away; you promised to tell them the news of the neighborhood. Have you? The Somebodies painted their house gray and white. Mrs. New-comer is very quiet and enjoys your rose garden. Mr. and Mrs. Oldster sold their house and went to live with their daughter. Daughter likes her teacher and boys, or, my Son is a freshman in High School. This is news your old neighbor will enjoy reading. Tell her.

Letters are packaged happiness; send a package of cheery greetings to a friend and get one in return. All of us are happy when the Postman brings us a letter; so is the other person. Write a letter to a letter-hungry friend, today, now.
